

Post Merger Integration (PMI) For a Medical Devices Company

ABOUT THE CLIENT

- Our client is the largest independent medical device company in India and the second largest in the surgical consumables market in India.
- Our client focusses on products used in surgical, post-surgical and chronic care, operating across three key markets, India, UK and Rest of the World

BUSINESS CHALLENGE

- Our client acquired a company which had a complimentary market and wanted to integrate the target company's business processes, data and alignment of management information with its own in-order to achieve merger synergies
- The client required post merger assistance in the areas of sales and operations planning, distribution optimization and developing a GTM strategy for decision making.
- Some of the key areas that we focused on as a part of the assignment were as under:

- 1 Robustness of input data and underlying processes
- 2 Shelf-life management, Distribution channel management
- 3 Integration and Automation of MIS reporting
- 4 Integrate demand forecasting, sales and production volume planning processes
- 5 P&L opportunities by leveraging spare capacity across production and distribution assets
